

'Blondie' Raps Union Officials in Senate Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pert and pretty Penny Singleton — Blondie of movie and television fame, bitterly accused paid officials of the American Guild of Variety Artists (AGVA) today of conspiring with night club owners to degrade and exploit run-of-the-mine exotic dancers and other entertainers.

Miss Singleton, slim in a white-figured dress and wearing a perky straw hat, told Senate investigators of her own battles for reform in the AFL-CIO union.

The veteran actress charged that lesser lights of the entertainment world, many of them "strippers" and exotic dancers, are required to mingle with customers, hustle drinks, "or worse," as she put it, in order to get and hold a job in many night clubs in big towns.

She called this a blatant violation of the union's rules, and told the Senate Investigations subcommittee:

"The national press and the police records in cities throughout the United States contain records of AGVA members ranging from lewd and indecent public performance to the serious charge of prostitution."

"These facts have been brought to the attention of the national administrative secretary and the officers of AGVA. They know, or should know of the circumstances which lead to these deplorable conditions. They have taken no steps to remedy or correct the situation."

"Rather, the union officials have permitted operators in the jurisdiction of AGVA to treat the performers, particularly the exotic or stripper, as an 'independent contractor,' thereby placing the AGVA member in the position where she has no recourse to her union's rules and regulations."

The inquiry headed by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., intends to explore the extent to which racketeers are involved in night club operations.

Miss Singleton is a former president of AGVA, a union representing about 13,000 entertainers, working in night clubs, cabarets, restaurants, burlesque houses, circuses and some hotels.

Dick Jones, of Philadelphia, also a former AGVA official, is expected to give further critical testimony.

McClellan announced he expects to hear between 50 and 60 witnesses in the eight to 10 days of hearings. He has listed Philadelphia, Chicago, New York, Baltimore, Miami and Tampa as among cities in which the union's operations are under scrutiny.

New Head of Urban Agency

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Hassel T. Wolfe, 32, of Clarksville, Tenn., has taken over as the first executive director of the Pine Bluff Urban Renewal Agency.

Wolfe was head of the urban renewal program at Clarksville for two years, before coming to Pine Bluff. He is a University of Tennessee graduate and was with an independent engineering firm for five years.

The agency plans to build a 37-acre civic center. The project is awaiting a ruling on an application for federal funds for a feasibility study.

$18 Million for Downtown Little Rock

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus, chiding one unnamed but obvious gubernatorial opponent, launched his bid for labor support in his try for an unprecedented fifth term in office.

Referring to himself as a friend of the working man, Faubus singled out a quotation made by an opponent in a recent speech at Fort Smith: "I challenge anyone to cite favoritism to organized labor or any other special interests during my two terms of office."

Faubus spoke at a meeting of the Jefferson County Trades and Labor Councils.

Although the governor made no mention of names, his only opponent to serve as governor of Arkansas is Sid McMath.

Regarding alleged favoritism, Faubus said it really depends on how the matter is viewed.

"Certainly, when an issue arises between two groups or conflicting viewpoints, it could be said that when a person decides to stand with one and against the other, he has favored that group," the governor commented.

However, Faubus added, "If this is true, then I have favored my friends in labor."

Faubus promised that if re-elected, he once more would appoint someone from the ranks of labor to act as liaison between the governor's office and the general assembly.

Bill Laney, Deputy Commissioner of Labor and a member of the Steel Workers Union, served in this capacity during the sessions of the legislature in 1959 and 1961.

Faubus told the labor officials a group calling itself "Workers for a Better Arkansas" has maligned and misrepresented him regarding his stand on labor issues.

He said the group has circulated widely a pamphlet dealing with his record on labor, but said the record was misrepresented.

Cool Air in Many Areas Over U. S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cool air spread into sections of the Midwest today but warm and humid weather clung to broad areas in the South and East.

The flow of cool air into the northern Midwest spread eastward and headed to the Atlantic Coast. Little change in temperatures was indicated in most other parts of the nation.

Thunderstorms and showers broke out across wide fronts from the Rockies to the Atlantic Seaboard Monday and Monday night. Heavy rain and hail fell in some areas. A tornado hit the Teapot Rock area 27 miles north of Casper, Wyo., injuring four persons and causing property damage.

A severe windstorm swept the area of Amesbury, Mass., uprooting trees, knocking out power lines and damaging some 50 automobiles. Observers estimated wind gusts reached 120 m.p.h. and power and telephone service was disrupted in the town of 11,000.

Temperatures dropped into the low 40s along the western shores of Lake Michigan and in northern Lower Michigan. But readings were in the 70s in most of the Southern states and from Massachusetts southward along Atlantic Coast. In the extreme South, 90 degrees or higher prevailed in the Florida Keys, southwestern Texas and in the Southwest desert region.

By the end of 1961, over 2474 persons in Hempstead county were receiving old-age, survivors, and disability insurance benefits. These benefits amounted to $121,616 in monthly payments, according to Otis A. Blackwood, District Manager of the Texas-Kansas Social Security Office.

Blackwood said that these figures show that during the last year there has been an increase of about 17% in the number of persons in this area receiving social security benefits.

In a breakdown on the money received in monthly check benefits in Hempstead county, the manager noted that there are 1263 retired people getting a total of $73,855; 363 children getting $13,017; 207 widows getting $10,872 and 146 disabled workers getting $8,435.

In the nation, over 16 million persons received a total of about a billion dollars in the month of December 1960. Close to a million of these beneficiaries qualified for payments under the disability provisions of the Social Security Act.

December 31 marked the end of the 21st year in which social security benefits have been paid. The first monthly checks were issued for January 1940. Changes in the law since its passage in 1935 have resulted in 9 out of every 10 American workers being covered under the program. Last year earnings were credited to the social security accounts of 75 million workers.

Reds Release Statement of U. S. Captive

By CONRAD FINK

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Vietnamese Communists have broadcast what they claimed to be a captive American soldier's statement denouncing "the criminal maneuvers" of U.S. imperialism in South Viet Nam.

The soldier was identified as Spec. 4 George F. Fryett Jr., 26, whose parents live in California. He is the only U.S. serviceman listed as missing among the 6,500 U.S. troops stationed in South Viet Nam to help President Ngo Dinh Diem's government fight the Communist Viet Cong guerrillas.

Fryett, a clerk in the U.S. Military Assistance and Advisory Group in Saigon, disappeared last Dec. 24. He reportedly went by bicycle to a village in Bien Hoa Province, north of Saigon, and apparently was captured by the Viet Cong.

The Communist "Liberation Radio," believed to be in North Viet Nam, broadcast Fryett's purported statement Saturday. It was picked up by U.S. Embassy monitors in Saigon and a translation was made available today.

According to the broadcast, Fryett appealed to the Communists for leniency and asked to be returned to "my compatriots' community" where "I want to be able to do something good for your people, such as by informing the American people of the presence of and illegal acts by the U.S. troops in South Viet Nam."

U.S. Embassy officials stressed that there was no confirmation that Fryett had made the statement.

U.S. officials noted that the Communists claimed to have obtained similar statements from two other American soldiers captured and released in May, but that the soldiers insisted they signed nothing.

U.S. Army officials said Fryett's father, George F. Fryett Sr., lives in Long Beach, Calif., and his mother, Marcella Schulz Bruce, lives in Los Angeles.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Two contracts for fallout shelter surveys were let Monday by Army Engineers in the second phase of the current fallout shelter program in Arkansas.

The contracts went to the Little Rock architectural firm of Ginocchio, Cromwell, Carter, Dees & Neyland and the Fort Smith firm of Mott, Vobley, Horstman & Station.

Non-Farm Employment Hits Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nonfarm employment rose to a better-than-expected total of 55.1 million in May, a record for the month, the Labor Department said, elaborating on May job totals released two weeks ago.

Rising employment in the auto industry more than countered a job decline in steel, it said.

Factory worker earnings rose to their highest point in history—averaging $97.20 a week and $2.40 an hour, against prior highs of $96.63 in December, on a weekly basis, and $2.39 in April, on an hourly basis, it said.

As reported previously, the May employment total was 68.2 million, while unemployment stood at 3.7 million. A Labor Department spokesman described the employment situation as very good but said unemployment is still too high.

Seymour Wolfbein, the department's manpower expert, said employment has risen so far this year by about a million more than was seasonally expected. He said auto employment rose by nearly 18,000 in May while steel industry jobs dropped by about 18,000.

U.S. officials noted that the Communists claimed to have obtained similar statements from two other American soldiers captured and released in May, but that the soldiers insisted they signed nothing.

U.S. Army officials said Fryett's father, George F. Fryett Sr., lives in Long Beach, Calif., and his mother, Marcella Schulz Bruce, lives in Los Angeles.

White River Low Water Survey

MEMPHIS (AP)—The Memphis District Engineers motor vessel Sullivan, with a crew of 23, began its annual low water survey of the White River today.

The survey is to determine how much snagging and dredging is needed to maintain a navigable channel from the mouth to Augusta, Ark.

Maintenance work on the river was resumed last October after a lapse of 11 years in snaggings and 19 years in dredging.

Col. M. L. Jacobs, who heads the Memphis District, said the resumption of work was justified by an increase in freight traffic on the White.

Jury Wants to Question Estes Wed.

FRANKLIN, Tex. (AP)—Grand jurors probing the fatal shooting a year ago of Henry H. Marshall want West Texas financier Billie Sol Estes to answer questions Wednesday.

A subpoena was sent to Sheriff A. B. Nail in Pecos, Estes' home town. Nail said he had been unable to find Estes but lawyer John Dennison told him Estes would accept service of the summons.

The Robertson County grand jury reopened the Marshall case three weeks ago. Marshall's body, pierced by five bullets, was found on his ranch near here June 3, 1961. The inquest verdict was suicide. A bolt action rifle was found near the body.

Marshall, 52, was state chief of production adjustments for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. At the time of his death he had been looking into cotton acreage allotments held by Estes.

Estes since has been indicted on fraud and theft charges. The Agriculture Department, holding the obtained cotton allotments illegally, recently levied a $554,172 penalty against him.

Judge John M. Barron, who called the grand jury investigation, has said Marshall was trying to stop manipulation of acreage allotments by Estes. But Will Wilson, state attorney general, says an Agriculture Department report on Estes' dealings indicates Marshall helped Estes on agreements for leasing land to which cotton allotments had been transferred.

A pathologist who performed an autopsy on Marshall's exhumed body, Dr. J. A. Hachimeczky, has expressed the opinion that Marshall probably was murdered.

Three Bank Robbers Flee Alcatraz

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Three bank robber convicts broke out of their Alcatraz cells during the night.

Acting Warden Arthur M. Dollison said today they are believed to have escaped from the rock island prison in San Francisco Bay on a driftwood raft.

None of the 20 convicts previously attempting escape from "The Rock" succeeded since the island became a federal prison in 1934.

Two vanished in an escape effort in 1937 and were presumed to have drowned. Alcatraz lies two and a half miles inside the Golden Gate atwhirl the chills of tidal currents of the bay.

Dollison reported evidence indicated the three shoved off on driftwood or an improvised raft from the north shore of Alcatraz. But it remained possible that the men still were hiding on "The Rock." A thorough search was underway.

He said they had cut away a portion of the back of their cells with a sharpened spoon.

They gained access to a utility pipe tunnel through which they climbed to the roof of the cell block. They removed bars protecting a skylight.

From the roof they dropped down a pipe to the ground. Then they made their way to the rear of the island to the water's edge, Dollison said.

Dollison identified the three men as John W. Anglin, 32, and Clarence Anglin, 32, both of Montgomery, Ala., and Ferris A. Morris, 35, of New Orleans.

Russia Sends 4th Ship to Spy on Tests

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union has sent a fourth ship bristling with scientific instruments to spy on U.S. nuclear tests in the Pacific.

This addition to the Russian snooper patrol was disclosed today as the United States prepared for a second try at firing a nuclear device at a high altitude over Johnston Island.

Informal sources indicated the shot—biggest of the U.S. test series—is likely late this week. The Federal Aviation Agency said Monday the shot more than 500 miles over the Johnston Island test area is expected to blot out instantly all high frequency radio communications in the Pacific.

Some of the disruption will last 32 hours or longer, the FAA said. The first high-altitude test shot ended disastrously June 4 when a Thor missile carrying the warhead aloft was purposely destroyed after the rocket tracking system developed trouble.

The presence of three Soviet instrument ships within 10 to 15 miles of the Pacific test area was announced by the Defense Department 18 days ago. It said they were obviously on a large-scale military intelligence collection mission.

It appeared the Soviet research ships may have collected data from Sunday's plane-dropped nuclear device which exploded over Christmas Island and released the equivalent of from one to several million tons of TNT. This was the 17th—and one of the biggest—announced shots in the current U.S. test series.

The new Soviet ship was identified as the A. I. Voyevkov, a sister ship of the Shokalskiy, the largest of the three research vessels which took up stations during May.

This means the Voyevkov displaces about 3,600 tons and is equipped with extensive scientific instrumentation.

Although the Pentagon gave no details, it was obvious the Navy has been keeping a watchful eye on the Soviet snooper fleet. Because the Russians are in international waters, there is nothing this country can do to shoot them away.

Among other things, the Voyevkov is understood to be fitted with a pad for launching meteorological rockets to study the effects of nuclear explosions on the upper atmosphere.

The Defense Department has said radio-chemical analysis by the Shokalskiy's 16 laboratories could provide information on bomb design, yield, and similar data "which have significant military implications."

Indications are the Soviet fleet will have another shot to monitor before the big atmospheric blast, Joint Task Force 8 on Monday ordered the danger area around Christmas Island closed to pilots and navigators.

3 New Jersey Troopers Killed

KEARNY, N.J. (AP) — Three state troopers were crushed to death when a bus rammed their patrol car and plowed over them on the New Jersey Turnpike Monday in an accident involving four vehicles.

The driver of the bus, Raymond E. Peters Jr., 35, Easton, Pa., told police investigators that his brakes failed. The big Royal Blue Coach Inc. vehicle struck a passenger car, careened into the police car and sent it smashing into a dump truck, then rode over the police cruiser and settled atop it.

The bus underwent a thorough check by investigators from the state police, the Public Utility Commission and the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The dead were troopers Joseph De Frino, 25, Lyndhurst, who was driving the cruiser, Milan Simcak, 36, Paramus, and Arthur J. Abagnale Jr., 26, Cliffside Park.

Five persons were injured — Peters, the two passengers in the bus, a rider in the private car and the driver of the dump truck.

Mrs. Palmer Wins Case in Tax Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A contention by Mrs. Bettie M. Palmer of Texarkana that $41,400 given her by five of her late husband's companies was a gift and not taxable, was upheld Monday by a U.S. District Court jury.

U.S. District Judge Gordon E.
Young said he would instruct the Internal Revenue Service to refund $23,094.07 which Mrs. Palmer had paid in taxes on the money.

Mrs. Palmer is the widow of Clyde E. Palmer who headed a newspaper, radio and television group in Arkansas. Palmer died in 1957.

A government contention that the money was paid Mrs. Palmer in lieu of dividends from the company was rejected by the jury.

The IRS said the money should be regarded as a death benefit to an employee's widow and all but $5,000 should be taxable.

The money was received by Mrs. Palmer in installments in 1957, 1958 and 1959 and was not declared on her tax returns for those years.

A deficiency claim totaling $23-094.07 was filed by the IRS and Mrs. Palmer paid the amount under protest.

As a result of Monday's verdict,
she will receive the full amount,
plus interest.

Young told the jury there was no allegation of wrongdoing on the part of anyone involved.

At question, Young said, was a difference of opinion on whether the money was meant as a gift.

The firms involved and the amount each paid: KCMC, Inc., Texarkana, $12,000; Associated Arkansas Newspapers, Hot Springs, $12,000; Banner News
Publishing Co., Magnolia, $10,000;
Gazette Building Corp., Texarkana
$4,800; and Commonwealth Realty Co., Texarkana, $2,600.

Directors of the concerns testified that they had intended the money as a gift to Mrs. Palmer in honor of her husband.

Faubus in a Pitch for Labor Vote

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An $18 million shot in the arm for downtown Little Rock was announced Monday night by Sen. J. William Fulbright.

Fulbright, who is seeking re-election, appeared in a non-political role to disclose approval by the Urban Renewal Administration of a temporary $18,876,419 loan to finance a complete rejuvenation of the city's entire downtown business area.

Announcement of the loan approval came at a meeting of the Urban Progress Association and Downtown Little Rock Unlimited.

The project, which officials spoke of as one of the largest undertakings of its kind in the country, will cost an estimated $25 million in public funds.

Private investment may reach $100 million before the project is completed in 10 years, said Dowell Naylor, executive director of the Little Rock Housing Authority.

"I am convinced that a new image is being created for Little Rock and Arkansas," Fulbright commented.

Raymond Rebsamen, president of the Urban Progress Association, commended Fulbright for being instrumental in helping secure the loan approval. He labeled the project "the beginning of a great era in Little Rock's history."

Upon completion, the gigantic undertaking is expected to become a model for duplication by other cities throughout the country.

It envisions a commercial area housing centers for transportation, conventions, sports and merchandising and at least one office building.

Planned is a series of plazas for pedestrians, including one in the heart of Main Street.

The plazas would feature covered walkways, garden spots and tree-line thoroughfares.

A 2-Minute Story
© 1962 by NEA, Inc.

Edith took in his shirts herself. Suit alterations required a tailor.

THE DIET
By RUTH ENGELKEN

"Not a blue tie with that brown suit!" Edith wailed, handing a tan one from the rack to her mate. "Really, honey, I wish you had more style sense and less weight."

"Okay, so I don't make Rock Hudson worry," Burt flipped the tie around his finger and changed the subject. "What would you like for an anniversary gift?"

Edith tapped her foot nervously and thought for a moment before she answered him. She was a pretty, shapely young woman. It was natural that Burt would want to give her clothes and natural that she should want him to look nice, too.

"If you really want to know what I want for our 20th anniversary, it's not the usual flowers, candy, and jewelry. I want you to go on a diet and lose 50 pounds. You'd be handsome again, Burt. You still have your hair and teeth and a good frame, even if it's all bulged out."

Edith gave a playful thump to her husband's bay window.
Burt sighed. "You want me to give up my only vice—eating!"

"But for me, Burt?" Edith put her arms around him and looked pleadingly into his eyes.

"Yeah, for you, I guess so, maybe," Burt kissed her on the tip of her nose. "It's a good thing one of us is still gorgeous."

"Two of us could be," she replied, offering him her lips.

Edith did a masterly job of stretching 1500 calories a day into attractive-looking meals. She studied diet books and learned the technique of balancing menus. At first, Burt complained about the tiny portions, but Edith's generous tossed salads and molded fruit deserts compensated for the limited starches.

After his initial five-pound loss,
Burt

he became encouraged. He visited downtown health stores on his lunch hour and picked up low calorie cookies and sugarless candy. He went to gym classes twice a week.

Edith took in his shirts herself. But his suit alterations were major enough to require the skill of a tailor.

It was a struggle during these months to keep Burt from putting on weight. In order to keep up his morale, Edith ate the same meals, and dieted just as he did. But she needed strength.

She found it difficult to exist on what Burt ate and wondered how he did it.

Edith was always hungry. Finally, she told herself, a snack or two wouldn't hurt, if Burt didn't find out about it. Burt could stand skimpy meals because he had a reserve of fat.

A year and a half later, Burt stood appraising his slender waist in the mirror. He had lost 54 pounds. "I need a couple of new suits," he said. Edith agreed.

He got two of them plus a plaid sport jacket. He also bought new shirts, a half dozen ties, and some buck shoes. Then he got a burr haircut because it looked better with his new physique. The next summer when the brakes needed relining on the old car, he traded it in for a white convertible.

He began working late nights and often missed coming home for dinner. Many times, Edith would have his plate dished up when he'd telephone to say something had come up and he could not make it home before 10.

She would pick at the food on her plate and his and fight back the tears.

On the morning of their 25th wedding anniversary, Burt carefully thumbed through his tie rack, selecting a red-and-white polka dot to co-ordinate with his gray worsted. "I'm giving you money, Edith, for an anniversary gift," he said. "Get yourself a dress that's real pretty."

He placed a $50 bill on the dresser, brushed his lips against her cheek, and was gone.

Edith stared at the bill a long time, then at her round face in the glass. She laughed hollowly at the plump image. "They don't make pretty dresses in size 40," she whispered.

Hell in Juvenile Suburbia

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: The things nice kids do in the suburbs is unbelievable.

I have just turned 12 and am in the seventh grade. Our crowd comes from good homes and does well in school. I get along fine with them except at their Saturday night parties.

At a party a few weeks ago there were six girls about my age and six boys around 13. When my boy friend and I walked in the living room with a plate of candy we'd been making, two couples were lying on couches. One was just necking. The other pair were plain disgusting. The girl had thrown her blouse on the floor and the boy was yanking off her undergarments. At sight of us, she grabbed up her things and ran into the next room.

We didn't know what to say so we just passed the candy. The girl came back, dressed, and lay down on the couch again with the boy. By now, all but us and one other couple were necking and smoking. We left.

My friends call me a square and won't invite me to any more of their parties. Mom is afraid I'll lose out later on because these kids are children of the best families here. Should I smoke, neck and striptease just to be popular?

I like my friends, except for these Saturday night sessions they are good kids. But if girls do these things at my age what will we be doing when we're 15 or 16? —Uncertain

Dear Uncertain: True popularity lies in being a leader, not a copy-cat. Just because these children of the so-called best families are sliding to hell is no reason for you to trail after them. Your letter indicates that you know the difference between right and wrong. Take a stand and stick to it, regardless of what your friends do.

Be popular by showing them how much fun they can have at a really nice party. Get your parents to help you give one for your class the evening of the day school closes. Make it a special occasion. Your father might ask the athletic coach to name the best-all-around school athlete of Chaney of Denison, Tex., and Mrs. W. C. Clark of Washington.

Judge and Mrs. Edward McFaddin of Little Rock visited Ross Gillespie over the weekend.

S-Sgt. and Mrs. Bobby Watson and Vicki Lee arrived Tuesday from Alice Springs, N. T., Australia, to visit Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Watson before going to his new assignment in Sacramento, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Wray and Larry of Canton, O., arrived Monday to spend the week with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wray.

Friends will be glad to learn that Mrs. Arlis Brooks has returned home from Little Rock, where she recently underwent surgery at the Baptist Hospital, and is doing nicely.

Faubus Says State Money Not Placed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today he could see no connection between the governor's office and the amount of state funds deposited in various Arkansas banks.

Faubus' remarks were made in reply to charges by Sid McMath, a gubernatorial candidate, Saturday that power is exercised over the state banks by control of deposits. McMath, speaking before the Arkansas Press Association at a press forum, released a list of the amounts of state funds in various banks.

Faubus said today, "Since I have been here the deposit of money has been handled by the state treasurer and I have had nothing whatever to do with it."

He added, "In fact, I couldn't have told you about any bank in the state, whether it had a deposit from the state or not. And I fail to see any connection between this and the race for governor."

Faubus said he wondered if McMath, a former governor, realized that the law governing deposits had been changed since he left office.

Under a 1945 act, state funds are deposited under authority of a board of fiscal control. One of the rules of the act is that no deposit can be placed in a bank larger than that bank's total capital and surplus.

State Treasurer Lee Arthur Clayton also defended his policy in handling state funds, saying no one exerts influence over his office on the handling of money.

Britt Reassigned

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Col. James O. Britt Jr., commander of the 384th Bombardment Wing at Little Rock Air Force Base since May, 1961, has been reassigned to the inspections division of Norton Air Force Base, Calif. He will be replaced by Col. H. L. Hogan III, currently commander of Chennault Air Force Base, Lake Charles, La.

Ballots Can Be Taken to Sick

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Attorney General's office ruled today that Arkansas law permits ballots to be taken to a sick or incapacitated voter unable to travel to the polls on election day.

The opinion, to Mrs. Virginia Hoover, chairman of the Carroll County Republican committee, said the law applied to all elections, but the ballots may be taken only under certain conditions.

One method, the ruling said, is for a close relative of the voter to pick up the ballot not later than 1:30 p.m. on the date of the election.

The opinion was written by Asst. Atty. Gen. Milas Hale.

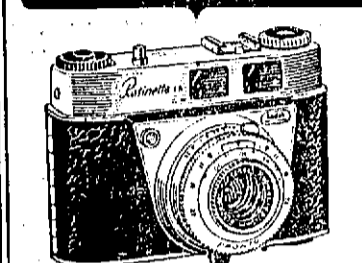

Sen. Chavez Is Out of Danger

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Dennis Chavez, D-N.M., was reported out of danger today at Georgetown University Hospital.

Mrs. George Dixon, the senator's daughter, said Chavez, 74, was rushed to the hospital Saturday when the trachea tube in his throat clogged and he was choking. The artificial tube was inserted after an operation last fall.

Mrs. Dixon said Chavez was taken off the critical list this morning, is "feeling fine and wants to get out of the hospital." Charles Davis, Chavez' administrative assistant, said the senator expected to leave the hospital today and go to the White House Wednesday for the signing of the bill authorizing the San Juan-Chama reclamation project.

THE STORY OF MARTHA WAYNE

By Wilson Scruggs

You'll Find Birds at War and Peace in Your Backyard

FEMALE PURPLE MARTIN AT LEFT, WITH three males. If the males with their beaks open appear to be giving voice to anger they are justified — a moment earlier when the 18-apartment bird-house appeared deserted a flock of pigeons lighted on the ridge-pole; and instantly the martin air force dive-bombed them from some observation post high in the sky.

THIS IS THE SOUTH SIDE OF THE MARTIN house, 17 feet in the air. All the occupants are on the third floor, two of the older pairs having nests on the cooler north side, facing the wall of First Presbyterian Church, while a fledgling couple setting up light housekeeping with no nest have been relegated to the hot south side facing the camera. The female partner of this pair is crouched in the dark on the top platform of extreme right — she shows in the original print but is too dark to print clearly in the engraving.

HERE IS A CLEAR PICTURE OF THE IMMATURE female.

HERE IS THE PHOTOGRAPHIC SETUP THAT was required to get pictures of the martins, 17 feet up and 27 feet away in the bird-house at right. The plywood blind had to be built because every time the martins saw the chrome-plated telephoto lens-hood they thought it was an air-rifle — and blasted off into the wild blue yonder.

PICTURE AT LEFT SHOWS ZEISS SONNAR F2.8 180mm. lens — a collector's item owned by the editor — mounted on a tripod, with 35mm. Contax camera fastened behind it. Further to left, looking around edge of blind, is The Star's football flashgun, trained on the high bird-house — with a synchronizing cord leading to camera. While the birds were spooked by the chrome lens-hood they paid no attention whatever to the flashes. Structure behind the bird-house is the south wall of First Presbyterian Church.

Some folks want an education, others get it the hard way — by experience.

Take The Star's Editor, for instance. A month ago he knew nothing whatsoever about the purple martin — the largest and high-flyingest of our American swallows. But then, while visiting a pet store, he saw a catalog illustration of an 18-apartment martin house, done in California redwood, manufactured in Georgia, and due to be purchased for Arkansas. He bought it.

That's where the editor's education began. For right there he discovered that the manual says martin houses have to be raised to a fantastic elevation. The book says 30 feet. The editor settled for an 18-foot treated pole fixed in concrete.

His neighbors in First Presbyterian Church scoffed that his only customers would be sparrows or cowbirds. But on the second day the bird-house was up the martins moved in, scattering some Johnny-come-early sparrows.

So far so good. But not for pictures — which was the editor's main intention. A month and $44 later he hadn't a single usable shot.

First there was the matter of frightening the martins with reflections off chrome-plated lens-hoods, which the birds mistook for air-rifles. The editor had to have a hunting blind built, with port-holes for the cameras.

And then he hit real trouble. Line-of-sight distance from the camera to the martin house was 27 feet — and not even the 15-inch football lens could produce a satisfactory picture on the 4x5 Speed Graphic camera. The small martin couldn't be satisfactorily enlarged before grain set in on standard newspaper film, ruining detail.

So the editor went back to a 35-mm. Contax and a 7-inch telephoto, using the German Adox KB-14 film, a slow but fine-grain film — and last Sunday shot the picture at the top of this page. The two middle pictures were made with the football telephoto on the big camera, and the bottom ones are Polaroids.

Our thanks are due Mrs. Manuel Hamm for identification of the martins. She spotted the young couple's pictures as being those of immature birds. Our observation took it from there — the old folks simply grabbed off the shady apartments and made the youngsters move to the south wing.

In his book "Introduction to Nature" John Kieran reports:

"Because they are insect-eaters and sweep tirelessly through the air all day in pursuit of mosquitoes and other insect pests, purple martins have been cherished birds in this country since Indian days. The Indians used to hang out lines of dried gourds as nesting places. Early white settlers followed the custom and went on to make architectural improvements."

Phillies Again Toss Another Big Roadblock

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Down on paper as a soft touch, Philadelphia's spoiler Phillies have ripped up the form sheet by throwing another roadblock at one of the National League's perennial hopefuls and adding this entry to their streak-snapping log:

June 11—Beat St. Louis 8-5, snapping Cardinals seven-game winning streak.

Monday night's entry was the fourth in a series.

On May 17—The third-place Cincinnati Reds had a six-game victory streak. The Phils won 6-5.

On May 31—The first-place San Francisco Giants had a seven-game string. The Phils won 5-2.

On June 2—The Los Angeles Dodgers, tied for first place, had a 13-game skid. The Phils won 7-0.

That's the way it's been for the Phils, who don't seem to be going places in that NL pennant scramble could have quite a bit to say about who does.

The victory over the Cardinals dropped St. Louis into fifth place behind the Pittsburgh Pirates, who moved up with a 6-1 triumph over the Chicago Cubs. In the only other games played, the New York Mets defeated Houston 3-1. San Francisco and Cincinnati were rained out.

In the American League, idle Minnesota took over first place when Baltimore knocked New York back with a 5-3 decision over the Yankees. Cleveland moved into a tie for second with the Yanks, a half-game back, by whipping Boston 10-0 in the only other game.

Home runs by Don Demeter and John Callison powered the Phils to their triumph over the Cards and paced a 12-hit attack that enabled Philadelphia to beat former teammate Curt Simmons (6-3) for the first time in nine tries.

Demeter hit his eighth homer with a man on in the fifth inning to put the Phils ahead to stay 4-3. Callison's three-run pinch-hit homer in the seventh brought home the deciding runs. The winner was reliever Jack Hamilton (4-5).

Dick Stuart hit two home runs for the Pirates—a first inning inside-the-park job with one on and a three-run shot in the sixth. The victory went to Joe Gibbon, winning his first since a trip to the minors cured his ailing arm.

The Mets beat the Colts for the first time in the rivalry between the two new NL clubs. Al Jackson (3-7) limited the Colts to seven hits. The Mets got six against Dick Farrell (4-6) to put it away.

Two Arkansans Survive Round

DAVIDSON, N.C. (AP) — Two Arkansans survived the first round of play Monday in the Southern Junior and Boys Tennis Tournament—one by winning, the other with a bye.

William Sheshanoff of Magnolia defeated Fred London Jr., Raleigh, N.C., 6-1, 8-6, in the junior singles division.

Ben Barry of Fort Smith, entered in the Boys, 16 and under, singles, received a bye.

Fight Features Game Between Orioles, Yanks

By MIKE RATHET

Bean balls? Who, me?

That was the general tone of the comment Monday night after the incidents that took place during the fourth inning of Baltimore's 5-3 victory over the New York Yankees and precipitated a free-for-all in which Yankee manager Ralph Houk tried to swing at Orioles' field boss Billy Hitchcock.

Leading off the fourth, Orioles' rookie outfielder John (Boog) Powell was hit in the head by a Bud Daley fast ball, slumped to the ground, but remained conscious. He was carried off the field on a stretcher and taken to a hospital where his injury was diagnosed as contusions of the head.

There wasn't much reaction until the first pitch from Baltimore starter Robin Roberts in the last half of the inning sailed over Roger Maris' head. The Yankee slugger started toward the mound, the $25,000 first prize, he can do bat in hand and a fierce look on his face.

Maris was restrained by Orioles' catcher Hobie Landrith as players from both teams raced onto the field. Houk and Hitchcock wound up in a heated argument that ended with umpire Charley Berry holding Houk off the field and a fierce look on his face.

Daley had nothing to say. He left before the game was over. When it was over, the Yankees were in a tie for second place with the Cleveland Indians, who moved up by beating Boston 10-0 in the only other game played.

The Yankee loss permitted idle Minnesota to move into the top spot, a half-game ahead of the runners-up.

The victory for Roberts (1-2), cut by the Yankees earlier in the year, was his first in more than a year—since he last won for Philadelphia's National League Phillies, June 8, 1961—and his first ever as an American Leaguer. He allowed seven hits and three runs in 7 1/3 innings before Steve Barber and Hoyt Wilhelm finished up. Daley (2-1) was the loser.

In the National League, Philadelphia snapped St. Louis' seven-game winning streak by beating the Cardinals 8-5. Pittsburgh won the Chicago Cubs 6-1 and the New York Mets defeated Houston 3-1. The other scheduled game—San Francisco at Cincinnati—was rained out.

Willie Kirkland tagged a three-run homer for the Indians in the fourth inning and put them ahead to stay. He later added a two-run double in the seventh for five runs batted in. Bubba Phillips also connected for the winners in support of Jim Perry (5-3), who limited the Red Sox to seven hits. Earl Wilson (3-2) lost it.

The Indians-Red Sox game did not pass without an incident. Before Kirkland connected for his homer, Wilson was charged with a balk that forced in a run. The Red Sox claimed Cleveland's Tito Francona, running at first base, batted "Hold it Earl," causing the pitcher to stumble on the mound.

Littler Is Choice in Nat'l Open

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

OAKMONT, Pa. (AP)—Back to back championships in the National Open Golf Tournament for Gene Littler?

Support was mushrooming today for golf's quiet man in the wake of Littler's brilliant play this year and more woe for tournament favorite Arnold Palmer, who severely gashed a finger on his right hand in a freak accident just when he was confident he had shaken a cold that kept him sub par physically for nearly two weeks.

"Littler's my pick," said two-time former Open champion Gary Middlecoff as he and the other early arrivals relaxed after a practice round at the 6,894-yard Oakmont Country Club course where the 62nd U.S. Open championship begins on Thursday.

"You don't have to be a big hitter to score on this course," said the Memphis dentist. "You have to be able to drive straight and putt well on these slick greens. Littler's playing beautifully, has been all year. Unless he has a big letdown after winning that big one in New Jersey Sunday (the $100,000 Golf Classic at Clinton, where Littler nailed the $25,000 first prize), he can do it."

A year ago, the soft-spoken Californian quietly tamed another course like this one—the Oakland Hills Country Club at Birmingham, Mich.—for his first Open title. It, too, was a course that demanded great accuracy as off the tee and a sure putting touch.

Gary Player, the little South African, and veteran Jackie Burke are others who like Littler's chances to become the first defending champion to repeat since Ben Hogan in 1950-51.

A doctor took six stitches in Palmer's third finger on his right hand to close the wound he suffered while he was putting luggage in the trunk of his car late Sunday night at the nearby Latrobe, Pa., airport. The gash went all the way to the bone alongside the knuckle.

"It didn't hurt much," the Masters champion said after a practice round late Monday. Palmer seemed considerably relieved that he could hit so well despite the heavy bandage.

"If it doesn't hurt any more than this," he said, "it won't be bad at all. We experimented with a couple different kinds of bandages and found one that might get the right feel of the club."

Mrs. Freeman Is Doped to Win

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP)—The 39th annual Arkansas Women's Amateur Golf Tournament hosts a field of 99 topflight players today as qualifying rounds opened the meet.

Defending champion Mrs. Joy Freeman of Little Rock returns seeking a second straight crown, but misses today's action. She is not required to qualify as the defending champion.

Returning to haunt Mrs. Freeman is the 1960 state champion, Mrs. Cliff Gookin of Fort Smith who battled the champion in the finals last year.

In 1960, Mrs. Gookin outlasted Mrs. Freeman in the finals, but the smooth swinging Little Rock golfer grabbed the laurels going down to the wire last year.

Other top foes include former champions Mrs. Joe Miller of Hot Springs and Mrs. Carl Robbins of Fort Smith.

Making her debut in the women's division will be Lea Larson of Conway, the state junior champion.

Recent rains have roughened the course somewhat, making distance shots hard and putting difficult.

This year, the women will have to play their ball as it lies. In past tournaments they were allowed to improve the lie.
